ABSTRACT

As developed by the nonprofessional staff of St. Michael's College Library, Basic Rules of Alphabetic Sequence Simplified (PRASS) is a refined system of alphabetic filing for library card catalogs. It is designed to be a concise set of principles, consistently applied, making it therefore faster than other standard filing systems. BRASS consists of 12 rules, each illustrated by specific examples. Rules cover basic alphabetization, including foreign words, numerals, abbreviations, and acronyms; interfiling of types of entries; variant spellings; subfiling of identical entries, added entries, and multiple editions; and filing of cross references. INTRODUCTION

BRASS is the development of the non-professional staff of St. Michael's College Library. It is a highly refined version of a system of filing for libraries developed by Director of the Library, Joseph T. Popecki, in 1960.

The advantage of the system here presented is that it is "natural,"; that is it adheres to the principle of alphabetical sequence, avoiding the intermixture of logic and numbers with alpha sequence. It also seeks to provide for solving the problems derived from inconsistent cataloging practices over the years.

By using a small number of fundamentally sound principles with virtually no exceptions, the filing rules are few in number and are easy to apply. In fact, filing by hese rules is at least 50% faster than almost any standard system.

Having developed an adequate basic system, the Staff soon discovered that it was equally important that the application be accurate and consistent. Experimentation showed that remodeling one filing system into another resulted all too often in the failure to move cards into their proper new positions. Accuracy reached the theoretical perfect mark when the existing card catalog was first "scrambled" into random order, thus making each card placement a deliberate decision.

In practice, all multiple card sets were removed by hand, as were cross reference cards. An initial letter at a time, the remaining cards were mixed in a box, as if to pick the winner in a lottery. The actual refiling process was performed by eight people, working in teams of two. To assure that a team didn't slip into bad habits or unconsciously develop new rules, the team members exchanged regularly. Within a team, one person filed and the other "read" the filing; at intervals, the positions were reversed. When a problem came up, it was discussed by the whole team of eight and the resultant decision was known to all. If it meant retroactive correction of something already done, that was accomplished immediately.

The final result was reviewed by professional personnel in the Cataloging Department, who supervised day-to-day filing.

Additional copies of this filing manual may be obtained for 25¢ from St. Michael's College Library, Winooski, VT 05404.

BRASS

(Basic Rules of Alphabetical Sequence Simplified)
*Devised for use with the library's card catalogs.

The order of letters used is that of the English alphabet. A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q, R, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y, Z. Some foreign languages using the western alphabet have some letters which file after Z. They are:

Danish and Norwegian - Æ, Ø, Å Finnish - Ä, Ö • Hungarian - Zs Swedish - Å, Ä, Ö Polish does not use Q or V unless quoting another language. It uses KS to simulate X.

1. Arrange all entries, letter by letter to the end of each word, throughout the entry, ignoring all punctuation. A punctuation mark is considered a space except for the elision mark (') which has the function of joining two words.

Examples:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 Charles Louis de Bourbon, duke of Parma NEW YORK files de fore NEWARK

Atlas, Charles Atlas Cleaner

files as

Atlas Charles Atlas Cleaners

2. Interfile all entries, regardless of kind, in one alphabet. Although subject entries are usually typed in all upper case (ART), capitalization has no influence on word order.

Examples:

Green, Winifred The green years

Greenaway, Kate, 1846-1901, illus.

GREENBACKS

Greenbaum, Joseph, joint author Greene, Mrs. Eunice (Chace)

see

Chace, Eunice

GREENE, Nathaniel, 1742-1786.

Interfile works by and about an author, whether personal or corporate. cf., Section 11, "Subfiling."

- 3. File all letters as you see them, disregarding all letter modifications, such as the umlaut ("), cedilla (.), tilde (~), etc. Thus, ä files as a; ç files as c; ñ files as n, etc. However, note letters in preface which are not considered letter modifications and file after Z.
- 4a. All signs and symbols not letters or numbers arrange before numbers or letters. Example: In general, the filing order is: "nothing"

signs or symbols

numbers

letters and words (alphabet)

^{*} Developed and implemented by the para-professional staff of the library.

- b. Initial numerals (numerals beginning an entry) are filed as numbers.
 Example: 50 Paintings is filed before any alphabetical entries.
- c. Roman numerals are equated to Arabic numerals for filing purposes.
- d. Numerals which occur within the entry are filed as numerals and ahead of words (see filing order above).

Examples:

CHARLES

CHARLES V

CHARLES VIII

CHARLES VIII, EMPEROR OF GERMANY

CHARLES X

CHARLES OF GHENT

e. Do not attempt to interfile time periods expressed in words and numbers, such as:

U.S. - HISTORY - REVOLUTION

U.S. - HISTORY - 1783-1865.

U.S. - HISTORY - 1815-1861

U.S. - HISTORY - WAR OF 1812

File according to the above rule (4a) and make an appropriate cross reference, e.g., U.S. - HISTORY - 1783-1865

1.5. - HISTORY - 1/83-1869 see also

U.S. - HISTORY - REVOLUTION

5. Initials and Acronyms.

Arrange initials standing for proper names as if each was a word, whether punctuated or not. $1 \quad 2 \quad 3$

Examples:

A. B. Smith

1 2

Jones, C B

Arrange initials standing for other words as acronyms, and interfile with acronyms as whole words.

Examples:

A. A.

A. B. Smith

Aa, Cornelis, van der

ABC of the N.R.A.

AMACO

Ambach, E

Ambach, Eugene F.

When acronyms or intials exist also as the words or phrases for which they stand, make appropriate cross reference

Examples:

UNESCO

see also entries beginning

United Nations Educational, Scientific and Culturla Organization

or

American Library Association see also entries beginning

ALA

6. Arrange abbreviations as if spelled out in the language of the abbreviations. Examples: Col. files as Colonel

Gt. Brit. files as Great Britain

Mlle. files as Mademoiselle

U.S. files as United States

Mrs. is filed as spelled. NOTE: Abbreviations of geographical names are never considered as initials for filing purposes.

- 7a. File elisions and contractions as seen.
 - File as a single word when the prefix or elided term is separated by an apostrophe.

File "d'histoire" as "dhistoire" and "aren't" as "arent"

- File ampersands (&) and other conjunctive marks (+) as if spelled out in the language of the sentence, thus:

"England & Germany" is filed "England and Germany"

7b. Proper names with prefixes are filed as single words, interfiled with variations of the name spelled the same way.

Example: Interfile

Van Der Veer

La Fayette

Van Derveer

or

Lafayette

Vanderveer

Do not file with the variant spelling, Vanderver.

Compound last names are filed as two words:

Example:

Smith, Charles

Smith Charles

Smith-Jones, Peter

filed as

Smith Jones Peter

Smith, William

Smith William

8a. When names or other words are spelled in two or more ways, file each as spelled and make cross reference(s) to the variant spellings. Examples:

O'Neill McFarland LABOR

Entries under this name follow
See also name spelled

Entries under this name follow See also name spelled See also LABOUR

O'Neal

MacFarland

O'Neale

McFarlan

0'Neil

Include only those variations actually in the catalog.

8b. Interfile variant spellings of the same person's name:

Examples:

Homer and Homerus

Augustine and Augustinus

Smith, D L and Smith, David Lawrence

9a. When there are several editions of the same work, with identical entries and titles, file in chronological order.

When entries, titles and publication dates are identical, file alphabetically by publisher.

- 9b. Interfile fully transcribed titles with other printings or editions which the cataloger has elided or shortened in transcription. This rule does not apply to titles which have been changed or altered in successive editions.
- 10. Things to ignore in filing.
 - Ignore the initial article in the nominative case in all languages unless the article is elided with a nown (c.f. Rule #7). See appendix one for foreign language initial articles that may be ignored. Be careful to distinguish in foreign languages the word that can be either a numeral or a definite article, such as the French "un" or "une." When the sense of the entry declares it to be a numeral, it must be regarded in filing.
 - Ignore initial abbre: iations denoting royal nature, such as: K., K.K., I.R., etc. (Kaiserlich, Imperiale, Reale, etc.).
 - Ignore dates, appellatives or qualifications when arranging works by the same author except when the appellative is the only means of distinguishing two different names.

Example: Interfile - Guardini, Romano, 1885-Guardini, Rev. Romano Guardini, Romano

Guardini, Romano, joint author

- Ignore directional words in the filing of cross references such as "see" and "see also."

- Ignore filing or conventional titles* that do not appear between the entry and the transcribed title:

Example:

Copland, Aaron, 1900-[Concerto, piano, (1926)] Piano concerto (Jazz concerto)...

Ignore Works. 1927.

Shakespeare, William
The complete works of William Shakespeare.

- Ignore punctuation and capitalization as filing factor.

lla. Sub-filing Arrangements.

1

How to arrange cards whose entries are identical.

A. If the main entry is an author:
Subfile by the title. Arrange identical titles by edition, then by date in chronological order.
Example:

Beard, Charles Austin, 1877
A basic history of the United States...

Beard, Charles Austin, 1377

Beard, Charles Austin, 1377
American in mid-passage....

In arranging works by the same author, ignore dates, appellatives and other qualifications (Mr., Bro., joint author, illustrator, etc.) as filing terms (c.f. rule #10).

11b. Added Entries

(1) If the added entry is an author, editor, illustrator, compiler, corporation, etc.:
Subfile by the title; ignore the main entry author. (Crossing out with pencil line makes it clearer to user.)

Campbell, Robert Jean, joint author

Hinsie, Leland Earl, 1895

Psychiatric dictionary....

(2) If the added entry is a title: Subfile by the main entry.

C. 2. (11) p. 4 4/74

^{*} It may not be practical to ignore filing titles in very large collections.

Example:

PAPER MAKING AND TRADE - HISTORY

Pizzetta, Jules, 1820-1900 Histoire d'une feuille de papier. Paris, Brunet, 1868.

PAPER MAKING AND TRADE - HISTORY

- 1 Hunter, David, 1883-1950 Papermaking through eighteen centuries... New York, W. E. Rudge, 1930.
- (4) If the added entry is a subject heading consisting of an author and a Subfile the author's name by the title in the added entry and inter-file with cards for the author as a main entry.

2

B

- 1 Augustinus Aurelius, St., Bp. of Hippo. 2 Confessions. Translated by E. B. Pussey. New York, Dutton, 1950.
 - 1 AUGUSTINUS AURELIUS, ST., BISHOP OF HIPPO. 2 CONFESSIONS.
 - Harvey, John Francis, 1918-Moral theology of the Confessions of St. Augustine. Washington, The Catholic University of America, 1971.
- 1 Augustinus Aurelius, St., Bp. of Hippo. 2 The Confessions of St. Augustine, translated by F.J. Sheed. New York, Sheed & Ward, 1953.

12. Filing of cross references.

- File see and see also references to other sources of - Subjects. information after entries under the subject or identical
- File see also references to variations in the spelling of - Names. names, using the following printed form, in front of cards with the first-filed spelling.

Example:

MacDonal d

Entries under this name follow. See also the name spelled

McDonald McDonal1
